

Rosemary's rugs are skillfully handwoven by artisans that Rosemary has developed a personal working relationship with for over 20 years. Her designs have always celebrated the rich tactile sensuality of the material.

It was Rosemary's mother, renowned rug artist Gloria Finn, who encouraged her to explore hand-hooking rugs. Rosemary's mum partnered with Gio Ponti and Anni Albers, among others, to interpret their paintings as floor coverings. With an innate eye for design and passion for the arts, Rosemary has fused her mother's influence with her own love of ancient tradition and modern design. Rosemary's collection of rugs reflect her varied inspirations, from artisanal textiles, to art, furniture and fashion.

Alpaca Bouclé

Authentically original. Artisanal in nature. As the originator of alpaca bouclé rugs and fabrics, she was inspired by the luxurious texture and versatility of alpaca and the history and traditions of Peruvian weavers dating back to the Inca period. Her appreciation of the artisanal process, and passion for textiles, have made Rosemary's name synonymous with custom luxury textiles that touch all senses.

Faux Shearling

True to its namesake, it is soft as a cloud. Made from polyester, but with an incredibly plush and luxurious texture reminiscent of the finest shearlings.

Designers and clients alike are drawn to its ultra plush texture and when we sample it for them they cannot help but rub their hands and toes through it and admire its decadence.
