Scottsdale Style

"I have a real tendency toward making the store feel like a lifestyle," designer Kathleen Clements says of Brady Gray (above), the new shop she co-owns in Scottsdale, Arizona. Her custom furniture collection mingles with French antiques, African accessories and Americana finds. BRADY GRAY, 6137 N. ### Thomas Lavin News

Two years after opening his Los Angeles showroom, Thomas Lavin decided it was time for an update. "Our fabric and lighting departments were being underserved," says Lavin (far left), who redesigned and expanded both sections and asked designer Gary Hutton to freshen up the paint colors. "Now we can show about twice as much product," he says, including lighting from Chameleon and Travers fabric. Philip Nimmo's sleek Ellittico side table (left) is also new to the space. THOMAS LAVIN, PACIFIC DESIGN CENTER, 8687 MELROSE AVE., LOS ANGELES, CA 90069, 310.278.2456, WWW.THOMASLAVIN.COM

A Toast to Baccarat

Out of Africa

San Francisco furniture designer Jiun Ho's fifteen-piece Africa collection was conceived after he visited the storied continent for the first time. The Orlean bench was inspired by an island bridge off the coast of Cape Town. JIUN HO, 415.437.2284, WWW.JIUNHO.COM
