

WRITTEN AND PRODUCED
BY KRISSA ROSSBUND
PHOTOGRAPHY BY PETER KRUMHARDT

marketplace

paper trail

PRETTY PAPER GOODS
GIVE STYLISH ORDER
TO A NEW YEAR ONE SHEET AT A TIME

As the calendar flips to a brand-new year, resolution makers zestfully turn over the proverbial new leaf. Design enthusiasts, too, begin to leaf through the new year's offerings and explore the gorgeous new possibilities of a timeless medium—paper in its many forms.

Some say snazzy electronic gadgets that store entire libraries, vast music collections, and a career's worth of contacts are saving our planet by making our lives paperless. But even the most wired (or should we say wireless) designers employ old-school folders and files to augment their electronic assistants. Furniture makers and artisans also see aesthetic potential in paper stacks and scraps. Voila! Good old paper is new again.

Paper your world with Adriatic wall coverings: "Rowan" in kelp (top) and "Tku," both Villa Roma through Thomas Lavin (thomaslavin.com). Papier-in-3ché birds, $45 each, alight on a "Net" accent table, $415, by Haitian artisans in recycled materials; Stray Dog Designs (straydogdesigns.com). "Ophelia" (top) and "Holly" painted paper pendants, $25 each, from Palamofia through etsy.com.